POLITICAL INTERESTS IN PANAMA CAUSE STRIFE

ARMED SUPPORT TO GOVERNMENT GIVEN BY U. S.

In Event of Insurrection This Country Will Aid Porras

FEELING RUNS HIGH

Trouble Arises Over Enforcing of White Award in Latin America.

New York, August 23.—Strong political interests in Panama hostile to President Porras and inimical to the influence of the United States over the Panamanian government are attempting to utilize the present territorial dispute between Panama and Costa Rica to precipitate an uprising, it was learned here today from authoritative sources. The United States government, which has ordered Panama to cede to Costa Rica the frontier district in question, is fully aware of the tense situation in the central American republic. Belf was expressed in some circles that the delicate political situation in Panama was one of the reasons that a battalion of American marines was sent to Panama. In the event of an insurrection it is accepted as a fact that the U. S. will give armed support to the Porras administration. The attitude of the United States towards President Porras was evidenced last spring when marines were sent from the Canal Zone to protect the executive against hostile mobs.

"I have no knowledge of any contemplated insurrectionary movement," said Belisario Porras Jr., son of President Porras and Panamanian consul general in New York City today. "But I do know that the feelings of the people are at a high pitch. Should such a thing occur, it is certain that it would not be successful. Steps have already been taken to prevent any such trouble. A few years ago we had no arms but very recently we equipped our police force in Panama with adequate arms and munitions. It is quite certain that the Panama government will be able to take care of any internal trouble itself. The whole thing is so sudden that it has taken many of us by surprise. As to the American demand that Panama cede disputed territory to Costa Rica, I know that my government holds the view that it cannot accept the White award."

Panama officials expressed the hope that the American marines which are en route from Philadelphia to Panama are not for immediate action service, but are to be held in readiness for future developments to protect the Panama canal in the event that disorders occur.

The Panamanian forces are well supplied with war materials. The government began making purchases of arms and munitions in this city last April and as late as July two shipments of munitions left this city for Panama. They consisted of rifles, bayonets, machine guns and cartridges. It was explained that these munitions were to be used for the protection of the city of Panama. The supplies were sufficient however to equip a force larger than the five hundred policemen raised by the government.

Persons conversant with conditions in the central American republic say that an uprising against President Porras has only been prevented by his refusal to give in to the demands of the American state department.

Despite the president's stand against the White award, (which the U. S. wants to enforce,) his political enemies accused him of having a secret willingness to yield if he could do so with grace. The political opponents of the president are sparing no effort to embarrass him. They have recalled old speeches made by him to prove that he was anti-American at the time of the creation of the republic.

The position of Porras has been a critical one for nearly a year with pressure against him from three different sources. His political enemies attacked him without cessation; the public demanded that Panama reject the White award and the United States government has been increasing its insistence that Panama yield to Costa Rica and accept the White award.

Panama, Aug. 23.—With negotiations between Panama and the United States, still pending over the Panama-Costa Rica boundary dispute, this republic has completed its military measures to defend the territory in question if Costa Rica tries to take it by force. President Porras of Panama is defying his political enemies and in answer to their demands for his resignation, announced that he would not retire from the presidency under any circumstances.

ITALIAN WAR HERO WILL VISIT U. S. AS GUEST OF A. L.

General Armando Diaz

General Armando Diaz, commander-in-chief of the Italian Army who will visit the United States in October, at the invitation of the American Legion. General Diaz will attend the Legion convention and will tour the United States.

CAMP SHERMAN TO BE USED AS SCHOOL FOR EX-SOLDIERS

Four Government Universities Will Be Established

Washington, Aug. 23.—Four great government universities for the training and rehabilitation of war veterans are to be created by the veterans' aid bureau, it was formally announced by Director Chas. R. Forbes.

The government will take over four cantonments to effect a sweeping departure in the present system of vocational training for disabled veterans.

The first of the universities to be opened will be at Camp Sherman, near Chillicothe, Ohio. One will be located in New York state, one in the South and one on the Pacific Coast.

The plan was announced after conferences between President Harding, Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer and Director Forbes. No legislation is required for the establishment of the camp universities, the Sweet bill recently passed giving full authority to Dr. Forbes to change the present system of vocational education. Camp Sherman, the first to be opened will be ready to receive students within 90 days.

"By utilizing the sites of the cantonments which have been or are due to be abandoned by the war department it will be possible to salvage considerable material and actually rebuild each cantonment into a vocational university at small cost," Director Forbes said. "Each will be practically a small city in itself."

The families of the students will be permitted to live on the cantonments and small cottages will be built for them, he stated.

At the present time there are approximately 94,000 men taking vocational training, it was announced. Of this number more than 40,000 are engaged in the training of some of the trades.

IRISH REPLY WILL BE SENT SATURDAY

Dublin, Aug. 23.—The formal reply of the Sinn Fein to English peace proposals probably will not be forwarded to London until Saturday, it was learned here this afternoon.

The Irish convention, composed of local Sinn Fein leaders from all parts of Ireland and representing business and clerical as well as political views, was in secret session debating the peace situation.

Whether or not the Sinn Fein cabinet has yet drawn up the draft of the reply to Premier Lloyd George is not known. None of the Sinn Fein officials would discuss the matter either privately or for publication.

There was an air of optimism in Dublin, especially in press circles. It was understood Eamonn DeValera was in negotiations with a high personage who heretofore has been in no connection with the peace proceedings.

GETS MAXIMUM SENTENCE
Columbus, August 23.—A $200 fine and costs and six months' in the workhouse is the maximum sentence imposed in municipal court upon Herman Paul, 20, of 496 Markison, avenue for beating his mother.

FINANCIER HAS POLICEMAN AND STABLE GROOM AS HIS SONS-IN-LAW

Chicago, Aug. 23.—J. Beaver Webb of New York, prominent figure in eastern society and finance has another son-in-law today to match the central park policeman who already has married into the Webb family.

The second son-in-law is George Miles, a groom in the stables of Benjamin Behr at Lake Forest. Miles and Miss Edith Beaver Webb, a New York society girl, were married on June 14, it was learned today. They are living in a cottage on Arcady farm, the Behr estate, at Lake Forest.

Employees of the Behr estate declare, that Miles is educated and refined but that he works as a groom because of his love for horses. Behr is the owner of one of the finest strings of horses in the country.

About a year ago Miss Louise Webb married Thomas Leonard, a Central Park policeman in New York. Father Webb protested and for a time sought seclusion on his yacht but is reported later to have accepted Leonard. It has not been learned here if Webb has been advised of the alliance of his second daughter with the Behr groom.

Congress in Last Minute Jam Before Recessing

Members Held at Desks From Morning Until Midnight In Effort To Clear Legislative Decks Before Closing.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Congress today finds itself in the last minute jam, which always accompanies the closing of a session or the taking of a recess. Members of the house and senate who have been accustomed to spend two or three hours a day in the chamber, are being held at their desks from mid-morning till midnight in an effort to clear the legislative decks before the proposed recess is taken tomorrow.

The house has passed the administration bill giving the war finance corporation authority to extend credits to the railroads and to agricultural interests. The senate still has before it the tariff bill, the tax bill, the shipping board, deficiency bill, the railroad credit bill and numerous other measures. Efforts will be made today to pass the appropriation for the shipping board and that is probably as far as the senate will get in its legislative work before the recess is taken.

The anti-beer bill still hangs fire, with the Stanley amendment prohibiting search and seizure as the striking point. The controversy over this bill threatens to disrupt the recess plans for some house leaders declare they will not recess unless the bill is passed finally without the Stanley amendment. Senate leaders are willing to sit here all summer, they say, rather than pass the bill in the form demanded by the house leaders.

Still Hopeful That Peace Will Be Fixed in Ireland

Press of Nation Remains Optimistic Over Outlook—Another Secret Session of Sinn Fein Parliament Held On Tuesday.

London, August 23.—Intensive discussions of the English peace offer were under way at Dublin today. In addition to another secret executive session of Dail Eireann a call was issued for a general conference of political, industrial and clerical leaders for a canvass of the peace situation. British officials were more than usually hopeful that the parleys would lead to progress towards a settlement.

The Morning papers commented in an optimistic vein. The Daily Telegraph, which is working for an Irish referendum, printed a number of interviews with Irishmen—Sinn Feiners and others—in support of a referendum.

"The real peace party in Ireland is not made up of members of the Irish republican army," said the Daily Telegraph in its editorial comment.

The Morning Post, chief organ of the Tories, headed its editorial comment: "Come out from among them." The editorial said in part:

"Should the rebel junta dispatch a reply which is not a qualified acceptance of the English offer proposed by Premier Lloyd George all honest men of the conservative party should sever connection with the British government. Further discussion will only lead to further surrender on the part of the government."

MAN'S DUAL LIFE REVEALED AFTER DEATH IN EAST

One Wife Lived in Indiana and Another With Him in New York.

New York, Aug. 23.—Death unsealed the secret of the strange dual life of Frank Eugene Bortel, and two women are still shaking their heads today at the surprising discovery. Both are legally his widows. One wife who had married him four years ago and had helped him build up the public service freight bureau, looked through his papers to see if there was a friend or distant relative who should be notified of his death.

She ran across a letter addressed to C. Polson at Southbend, Ind. It ended with the line "Give my love to sister Mary."

Mrs. Bortel had never heard of "Mary." Her husband had never spoken of any relatives. She wired Polson. He wired back: "Am starting at once for New York with his wife."

There arrived the next day Mr. Polson and sister. His wife who for 23 years had been known in Kansas City and South Bend, Ind., as Mrs. Frank E. Bortel. The dead man had married her in June 1893, when he was a hotel manager in Kansas City. She was Hattie Schwartz of Burlington. There never was a divorce. Nor was there the slightest hint to her that she was not "the only one" or that he had remarried.

Painful and lively was the scene that ensued when Mrs. Bortel met Mrs. Bortel. Wife No. 1 told No. 2 how for 20 years Bortel was a traveling salesman and at one time worked as a reporter on the Chicago Chronicle, how he was always loyal, loving and generous; how, since he went to New York five years ago he regularly paid her rent and sent her $100 a month and only last Christmas gave her an automobile.

Polson was not less amazed than the two women at the revelations concerning the strange life of his long time friend and brother in law.

WOULD STIMULATE EXPORTS
Washington, Aug. 23.—With a number of amendments the senate bill which would make $1,000,000,000 available through the war finance corporation for stimulating exportation of agricultural products was passed by the house.

GIANT SWINDLE AIMED AT NATION'S INVESTORS

CHICAGO SOCIETY GIRL ACCUSED BY WIFE IN COURTS

Robert Griffen Stewart, assistant general manager of the Standard Oil Company, of Indiana, is being sued by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine Stewart, in the Chicago courts for a separation. Mrs. Stewart names Miss Phyllis Shaw, a prominent Chicago society girl, in her suit. All the principals are well known in Chicago and the suit has created a sensation.

MANY LIABILITY INSURANCE FIRMS MAY BE CHARGED

Contempt Proceedings to be Started if Price Acts on Suggestion.

Columbus, Aug. 23.—Because about 700 liability insurance policies are said to be in force throughout Ohio, notwithstanding the order of the state industrial commission that these policies be cancelled, the commission may ask Attorney General Price to bring contempt proceedings against the liability insurance companies, or the commission may request Gov. Davis to take the matter up with the state insurance superintendent.

The ouster law, passed by the state legislature in 1917, prohibits employers from carrying workmen's compensation insurance with private liability companies. The courts ruled this law abrogated existing policies as well as made it unlawful for new policies to be written. The industrial commission's order of cancellation was based upon the ouster law.

CHILD LABOR LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Greensboro, N. C., Aug. 23.—Judge James E. Boyd, in federal court, held the new federal child labor law unconstitutional. The Owen-Keating child labor law also was held unconstitutional by Judge Boyd two years ago and that ruling was upheld by the supreme court of the United States. The opinion was rendered in the case of the Vivian spinning mills of Cherrylands, N. C., who asked an order restraining J. W. Bailey, collector of internal revenue, from enforcing the act. The law imposed a federal tax of ten per cent on the profits derived from products on which child labor was employed.

FLYER IN CRASH

Dayton, O., Aug. 23.—Jack Stinson, exhibition flyer whose plane crashed into a store front near Buckeye Lake, is a Dayton youth and brother of the famous Catherine and Marjorie Stinson, aviatrixes. His mother runs a hotel here. Stinson is accompanied on his tour by Lisle Johnson, local newspaper man, son of the city building inspector.

PLAN HATCHED IN EUROPE TO DEFRAUD U. S.

One Hundred Millions Were To Be Sunk In Worthless Bonds

GOVERNMENT ACTS

Fraud Order May Be Issued By Postmaster General.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The "blue sky" promoter has bobbed up in a new disguise in the United States, as the king pin of an international plan hatched in Europe by which Americans were to be induced to sink at least $100,000,000 in investments in practical worthless municipal bonds of some of the bankrupt nations of central Europe, according to information in the hands of the government today.

President Harding and his cabinet, sensing the dangers involving American investors today were considering measures to suppress these operations by warnings which will render the operation of the promoters unsuccessful.

The United States mails today were flooded with circulars of brokers acting for "investment brokers" abroad offering to sell American investors certain "Polish municipal" bonds for what purports to be a "song". Postmaster General Hays today is weighing the question whether postal laws are sufficiently broad to check the attempt to sell these bonds. American promoters of the selling plan for Polish "brokers" represent to prospective buyers of their security that they will sell "Polish municipal bonds" supposedly worth $19.85 in American dollars, but in the currency of Poland. This plan, it is said, will reduce return on the bonds to almost nothing.

If a fraud order is not issued by the postmaster general it is probable that the treasury will issue to the police a warning to be on guard against this and similar efforts to deplete the American pocketbook.

Secretary Mellon today, commenting on the Polish bond proposal, said: "One might as well gamble on the weather as to figure when there will be a rise in the value of Polish currency."

"I proposed to examine the plan carefully. It is my purpose to protect American investors against wildcatting." Mellon held aloof from expressions that would give hope of early improvement in foreign currency values. He suggested however, that out of the coming disarmament conference, there may come something that will lead to financial stabilization.

RIOTING STARTS IN BELFAST BETWEEN OPPOSITE PARTIES

Belfast, Aug. 23.—A tense situation prevails at Belfast this afternoon following two outbreaks of fighting between unionists and Sinn Feiners. Following an early morning burst of rioting disorders again broke out when a unionist mob armed with rifles and revolvers made an organized attack against a party of Sinn Feiners who were on their way home. The plan for the assault was carefully laid, the attackers being summoned by the blowing of whistles.

The homes of the Sinn Feiners were attacked and damaged. The Sinn Feiners rallied and the fighting spread through the streets.

Policemen were rushed to the scene but were unable to do anything with their riot clubs. The mobs were not dispersed until the police fired a fusillade from their service pistols.

Belfast, Aug. 23.—Rioting, in which many shots were fired and bombs were used, broke out early today in Queen street. The trouble began with a clash between Sinn Feiners and Unionists. Shooting occurred for several hours and the street lights and many windows were demolished. In the darkness the police could not distinguish the attackers from the attacked and were compelled to charge indiscriminately through volleys of bullets. The bombs were home-made affairs and failed to explode.

LONG HIKE UNDER WAY

Bucyrus, August 23.—Earnest Schlegel Jr., and R. J. Alexander, of Rochester, Minn., hiking to the University of Pennsylvania from their home town, passed through Bucyrus. Each carried a pack weighing about 12 pounds. They sometime sleep by the roadway at night.

ROBBERS' TRUST IN LAWS' TOILS; MANY ARRESTED

Federal Officials Probe Deeper Into Elaborate Swindle.

INVOLVE OHIO MAN

Director of Winton Motor Company On Verge of Suicide.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The arrest of Z. W. Davis, former millionaire president of the Winton Automobile Company was ordered today in connection with the $3,000,000 "bond theft trust" under investigation by federal authorities here. Davis is also president of the Diamond Portland Cement company in Cleveland.

Assistant U. S. Attorney John V. Clinin, in ordering Davis' arrest, declared the Cleveland millionaire would be compelled to reveal his operations with the bond. Two other arrests were made today, bringing the total to seven. These were C. E. Strelzin, at Milwaukee and C. K. Strobel, at Akron, Ohio.

Chicago, August 23.—With six men under arrest and warrants issued for ten others, federal officials today were probing deeper into the "three million dollar" swindle attributed to the "robbers trust" of which John W. Worthington is declared to be the head. Evidence already uncovered, federal agents assert, reveals one of the most gigantic fraud conspiracies ever attempted by confidence men.

The conspiracy, it was revealed today, already has brought an Ohio millionaire to the verge of suicide. Z. W. Davis, a director of the Winton Motor company and other large business concerns in Ohio is shown by correspondence seized by federal agents to have made a written threat to "blow out his brains." Davis, who is under indictment, is said to be bankrupt.

"I am a pauper, disgraced and ruined," Davis wrote to Charles W. French, who is said to have been the head of the band that fleeced him. "My wife and family are reduced to beggary. And so help me, French unless you return to me the $2,500,000 that you and your swindling band have stolen from me I shall blow out my brains."

French and five alleged associates were arrested in an elaborate furnished suite in a local hotel. French previously had been arrested in connection with the operations of Worthington but had been released on his own recognizance after telling Colonel John V. Clinin, assistant U. S. attorney, what purported to be the history of Worthington's alleged operations.

Among the men for whom warrants have been issued but who have not been apprehended are A. E. Strelzin, a Milwaukee broker; Ernest Strelzin, his brother; Richard Weinstein, a Milwaukee bond salesman; Elmer L. Gerber and H. L. Peak, Cleveland bond salesmen; C. K. Strobel of Akron, Ohio, and A. Harshman, already at liberty after his arrest as a confederate of Worthington.

Apprehension of the members of the band followed a probe replete with the melodrama of tapped telephone wires; secret codes and dictaphones. It has not been revealed just how the alleged swindling of Davis was accomplished. His connection was discovered when federal agents learned that French and Worthington had been discounting Davis' notes for huge sums in Cleveland and other eastern cities. Davis is said to have become criminally involved as a result of his efforts to retrieve his vanishing fortune.

Rudolph E. Kohn, vice president of the American Rubber Company, a $100,000 tire concern, is one of the men under arrest. He is said to have made a complete confession of his knowledge of the operations of the band. Kohn was arrested after he had endeavored to discount at the Merchants and Manufacturers' Securities company $30,000 worth of sixty day notes signed by Z. W. Davis.

Akron, August 23.—Charles K. Strobel is under arrest here today in connection with the $3,000,000 bond swindle in Chicago. The arrest was made by direction of federal authorities who requested that his bond be placed not lower than $25,000. He will be given a preliminary hearing today. Strobel was formerly in the real estate business here and promoted a belt line project for the city.

Paper Out Early
Wednesday, August 24, the Gazette and the Republican offices will be closed at noon in order that the final work of remodeling may be completed. The Gazette will be published at 12 o'clock.

DISCOVER GAUZE SEWED UP IN HEAD OF LOCAL WOMAN

For three weeks Mrs. B. L. Hughey of Home Avenue carried in her head a roll of gauze bandage two inches wide and three yards long.

A local physician who was mystified by the refusal of a "swelling" on Mrs. Hughey's head to reduce after constant treatment, which included several lancing, operated on the spot Saturday and removed the tightly rolled piece of gauze.

Almost immediately excruciating pain in her head from which Mrs. Hughey had suffered since she was injured in an automobile accident near Middletown August 2 ceased. Saturday night she slept easily for almost the first time since the auto crash occurred.

Mrs. Hughey's injuries, which consisted of a triple fracture of the arm, and severe gashes on the face and head, were given surgical attention in Middletown the night of the accident. The local physician who was called into the case after Mrs. Hughey's return home the following day, believes that an assistant to the operating surgeon may have forgotten to remove the roll of gauze after it was inserted into the patient's head to staunch the flow of blood. The wound was closed with stitches.

Five days after her return home, the cut in her head had healed sufficiently to permit the removal of the stitches. The physician was mystified by the "swelling" which appeared on the opposite side of the forehead, and which had not reduced as he supposed it would do naturally. Its persistence, and the great pain suffered from it by Mrs. Hughey, caused him to lance it to remove the pus. This was repeated many times. It was ineffectual in reducing the swelling and the operation followed.

SCHUBERT AGENCY TO BOOK PLAYS

The Standard Amusement Company, which last year arranged for bookings through the Schubert agency of New York City, and through that agency received at least two high-class productions, has three productions engaged for the coming season through the same medium.

The three premier offerings that will be staged at the Opera House on dates to be announced later, are, "The Bat," "Enter Madame," and "Lady's Night." Of these, the first named probably has the biggest reputation outside of New York, where it ran successfully for weeks. The other two productions have also been received well in New York, and all three are of the class of bookings that reaches the Victory Theater, Dayton.

The three Schubert bookings are all three dramas or comedy dramas that can be well presented on a stage the size of the stage of the local theater, which is too small for many of the big musical comedy shows that might otherwise be booked here. Last year, "Twin Beds" and Cecil Lean and Cleo Mayfield in "Look Who's Here," were booked through Schubert's.

Repairs are now being made on the interior of the Opera House. A new curtain is being painted, and new aisle carpets will be laid before the house officially opens for the winter season.

RECESS IN HEARING CALLED MONDAY

Columbus, O. Aug. 23.—Because of the absence of a number of witnesses a brief session was held this forenoon and a recess taken under this afternoon by the state utilities commission relative to its inquiry into the Ohio railroad freight rate situation.

M. A. Kinney, superintendent of motive power, Hocking Valley railroad, and W. T. Morgan, of the engineering department, same road, were on the stand today. They were questioned concerning the road's operating expenses.

The testimony of these officials was designed to support the claim by the railroad that their recent joint offer of reduced freight rates, involving the minimum rates now prevailing, in lower Michigan contains the lowest rates the Ohio roads can stand prior to next January, at least.

It was reported here today that a 20 percent reduction in prices of their products has been promised by officials of road building material concerns as soon as freight rates decline.

BABY CLINIC WILL BE HELD DURING WEEK OF FESTIVAL

Is your baby 100 percent? If you don't know, and you want to find out, bring him or her to the baby clinic which is to be conducted at Red Cross headquarters in the Court House during the fall festival next week.

Mrs. David W. Cherry who has been appointed by the festival committee of the Chamber of Commerce to have charge of the clinic is busy naming sub committee heads and making other plans for the affair.

In addition to the clinic, baby parades for white and colored infants will be held. Exact dates for the exhibitions of infantile loveliness will be announced later, but the clinic will be held Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the festival.

Babies receiving highest scores in the clinic, and others who attain high points when their fond mamas push their infants in decorated perambulators before the admiring judges will be awarded prizes.

Details of the clinic are yet to be worked out. It is hoped physicians from different parts of the county as well as the city, to act as examining doctors. Aid of nurses will also be solicited.

Mrs. Charles A. Kelbie heads the baby parades committee. Other sub committee heads named by Mrs. Cherry are: Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, equipment; Mrs. J. W. Gibney, record; Miss Bertha Trebein, doctors and nurses; Mrs. C. B. Mowrer, publicity.

Each mother entering her baby at the clinic will be given her child's record.

A rest room for mothers and babies will be fitted up in the court house by the Red Cross during the festival.

U. S. SCIENTISTS LEAD IN CERTAIN FIELDS - EINSTEIN

Berlin, Aug. 22.—"American scientists lead in the fields of astronomy and experimental mineralogy as well as in certain branches of experimental physics," is the opinion of Professor Albert Einstein, known as the father of the doctrine of relativity. "Optimism, energy and ambition are qualities of the American scientist which are bringing him to the fore," said Einstein. "Furthermore the American students lack the spirit of skepticism so predominant in Europe."

"American scientific laboratories are wonderfully well equipped and I have never seen anything so complete as the laboratory of Milikin and Michaelson in Chicago. One of the most striking impressions I received of America is the degree to which the technical contrivances for every day comfort are developed; everything in the house is practical and labor saving; efficiency with a minimum of effort and movement. Of course this in a way represents luxury."

"What do you think of American universities; how do they compare with the German schools?" the correspondent asked.

"An American university reminds me of a large family," replied Einstein. "The relations of the students to one another and of the students to the faculty certainly give one this complete impression. The American students do not take much practical interest in politics in the aggressive manner of German students but that is perhaps in Germany a concomitant of the revolution."

"The international relations between the world scientists are improving although of course, the scars of the world war have not yet been effaced. In both England and America I found a distinct desire to cooperate with the scientists of the central powers for the advancement of science."

SURVEYOR DIES; RESULT OF INJURY

Akron, August 22.—Edward Paul, 41, former county surveyor and later captain in the 141st regiment of engineers in the world war, is dead at his home here as a result of an auto accident late yesterday. Paul was driving with his family near Twinsburg when the automobile overturned, pinning him beneath the wreckage. Mrs. Paul was also seriously injured.

An Open Letter From The Clergy To The People

—ON—

The Necessity of Saving Cedarville College

WITH a little hope of giving the citizens of Greene County new light on the Campaign that is being promoted in behalf of Cedarville College, though realizing that the subject has been often presented by those able to treat it both wisely and with learning, we ask your attention to a few additional thoughts upon the necessity of saving his Institution.

"THE great test of a College is to educate men and women," so said Carlyle. Webster expressed a like thought when he said "the merit of the Colonies was, that they produced a Washington." And McKinley gave a similar idea as tersely, but more applicable to our time when he declared: "The blessing of the people is that they made a Lincoln."

THE pride of our Nation has always been that our Institutions can take not only the children of the rich but also of the poor, and educate them alike so that from them will develop leaders "who will ride the whirlwind and direct the storm."

OUR own Cedarville College was founded by the Reformed Presbyterian Church and throughout its history has stood for those high religious ideals for which all Evangelical denominations stand. Both the teaching in the Class Room and the daily contact between faculty and students make for development of those elements of Christian character which furnish the surest guarantee of our National welfare and perpetuity.

Note these facts:—

1. Every member of the Faculty must be a professing Christian and a member of some Evangelical Church.
2. The religious side of the students' life is taken care of by Daily Chapel exercises by the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.
3. Each student is required, before he is permitted to graduate, to take a systematic course of the Bible study.
4. The College also emphasizes the training of Religious Leadership. A large number of her students have gone out into the world and are eminent leaders in the Church life of their denominations today. The College has always maintained a good religious spirit and endeavors to strengthen instead of weakening the faith of the student and strives to return him to his Father's home strong in the belief in his Father's God and in the undying principles of Eternal Truth.

THE doors of the College are open to all without regard to religious affiliation or religious extraction. Neither of these tests is applied as requirement of admission. That it is not Sectarian appears in the fact that it has on its Faculty, representatives of a number of different Evangelical denominations.

THE Christian Training of the College furnishes not only ideals of Christian Leadership, but also the basis of the highest Christian Citizenship. A splendid spirit of Democracy has always pervaded the Institution. A perusal of its records will reveal the fact that it has been zealous in educating the boys and girls of all classes, regardless of their social standing; and it has arranged its service so that the deserving poor, those of moderate means and the wealthy may be educated within its walls. It caters not to the Classes but to the Masses, and will endeavor to develop all into the highest type of Loyal Citizenship.

THE chief asset of a College is not its Endowment, nor yet its buildings and equipment. The chief asset of a College lies in the personality of its President and in the members of its Faculty. Dr. McChesney has been identified with this Institution for twenty-seven years. No man in Greene County is, perhaps, more widely and more favorably known. Professor Jurkat has been with the College for twenty-five years; Professor Allen for fifteen years. Both of the latter are widely and favorably known over the County as instructors of marked ability and as men of strong personality. These men, with the new blood that has recently come to the Faculty, not only give the Institution educational ability, but the added power of a strong personality that makes its stamp in an imperishable way upon the life and character of the student.

IN strength of personality of its President and Faculty, Cedarville College is second to no other Institution in the State.

WE, the Pastors of the Churches of Cedarville, take pleasure in commending Cedarville College to the citizens of Greene County and surrounding communities, as a safe and sane Institution in which to educate your boys and girls, and we urge you to give it your most liberal financial support.

METEORS TO HAVE FOOTBALL TEAM

SENATORS FIGHT NEW DRY CLAUSE

Washington, August 23.—Constitutional guarantees against indiscriminate search and seizure of private property in and out of the home is the rock upon which they are standing and from which they will not budge, senators fighting the "dry" search and seizure amendment to the anti-beer bill declared today.

"Interminable debate," is the weapon they asserted they are prepared to employ as a last resort if the "drys" insist upon the acceptance of the amendment. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who voted for prohibition of the sale of intoxicants and who favors a rigid enforcement of the law prohibiting the liquor traffic, is among the ordinarily "dry" senators who are holding out against the amendment on the ground that it is an infringement of the guarantees of the fourth amendment to the United States constitution which reads:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable search and seizures, shall not be violated and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause supported by oath or affirmation and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."

Among the American oil men who are expected to reach Mexico Saturday for the meeting are Edward L. Doheny, J. W. Vandyke, H. F. Sinclair, A. L. Beatty and Walter C. Teagle.

OLD WATER SUPPLY USED FOR SHORT TIME ON MONDAY

Is the present city water better than the old supply that was served Xenia patrons?

Water patrons were willing to admit Monday that the new supply tastes better than that offered for a few hours Monday.

The reason was, that water officials, in making changes in the new plant at Old Town were forced to start the old steam engines in the old Springfield pike station, and use the chlorine-laden water.

As a result many people, realizing immediately that something had happened to the water they had been using, in many cases refused to use the water Monday for several hours, thinking the supply had suddenly turned bad.

While the old supply was in constant use, Xenia people became accustomed to the unpleasant taste of chlorine. Since the development of the new supply, however, the taste of chlorine in the water Monday was exceedingly unpleasant, according to city officials.

The work that necessitated the use of the old supply was only temporary, according to City Auditor T. H. Zell, and the good supply of water was rushing through the pipes within a few hours after it was stopped. "The water Monday was perfectly pure," said Dr. R. H. Grube, City Health Commissioner. "When people taste chlorine in the water they should feel assured that it is safe to drink at least even if it does not taste as well."

The new power unit at the water station at Old Town has now been completely installed. In an experimental test, the two units pumped over 2,000,000 gallons of water a minute, against the greatest possible head, overflowing the standpipe. If there was great use for the water at any one time, thus reducing the head pumped against, the station could pump considerably more water, according to Mr. Zell.

East End News

Miss Edna Weaklin, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Young, of Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hale, of Jamaica, New York, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Weaklin, East Second street.

Quite a number of Xenia people were in attendance at the annual moon-light picnic given by Ross Chapel A. M. E. church last Saturday evening, at Jamestown. A dinner consisting of tempting picnic delicacies rivaled its predecessors. A mammoth crowd greeted the affair—there being nearly 2,000 persons in attendance. Much praise is due to the officers and members of the church for the way in which they were able to handle and serve such a massive crowd. This church was the originator of the moon-light picnic.

Among those in attendance at the annual picnic in Jamestown Saturday were Mrs. Clara Watkins Gaines and house guest, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Robert Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards and Attorney Stokes and wife.

AN OLD-FASHIONED WOMAN IN CONGRESS.

That the new day of woman is at hand is emphasized in the matter-of-fact way in which Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma's Congresswoman, has been received in Washington.

Miss Robertson was born in 1854 at the old Tullahassee Mission, within ten miles of Muskogee. She is the granddaughter of the Rev. Mr. Worcester, who was a pioneer missionary to the Indians in Georgia before they were driven to the Indian Territory. Her grandfather's efforts to enlighten the Indians stirred powerful enmities against him, and he was sentenced to a four-year term in the Georgia penitentiary, scorning an offer of pardon if he would abandon his efforts for the Indians. After serving one year and a half of his term, he was freed by a decision of the United States Supreme Court.

The girl grew up in an atmosphere of service to humanity and was sent to Elmira College, New York, where she was graduated with a Master's degree. After this she worked for a time as a clerk in the Indian Bureau at Washington and then returned to her home to take up the work of her ancestors by founding the Henry Kendall College at Tulsa, an outgrowth of her Boarding School for Girls. In the early eighties she raised funds among her eastern friends to build Nuyaka Mission in the Creek Nation and supervised its erection, and was for years Government Supervisor of the Creek Indian Schools.

While her presentation of the Indian problems first attracted Colonel Roosevelt's admiration, her efficient service in helping to fit out and recruit the Rough Rider regiment in the conflict with Spain increased his esteem. He once paid his tribute to her: "Wherever Alice Robertson is, whatever her surroundings, she is one of the great women of America."

Miss Robertson's patriotic services during the World War quite equalled those during the Spanish-American war. When mobilization began, trainload after trainload of soldiers passed through Muskogee on their way to the many training-camps in Texas. She did not wait for Red Cross funds or assistance, but loaded her automobile with sandwiches made from her own home-baked ham and met every troop train. She would not permit a man in uniform to pay for a meal in her restaurant, and more than 5,000 of them accepted her hospitality.

"I started out in Oklahoma to interest women in Government activities even while I opposed suffrage. I founded a string of Woman Must Know societies for studying government, and I am still of the opinion that if women spent in studying government the time they spend in playing bridge they could clean up the old parties when they get into them. The greatest need of America today is an awakened personal conscience, and no government can rise beyond its source in the ward or the precinct. While I will not undertake to say that it is wrong for a woman to play bridge, I will say that it is the very height of injustice for the courts to fine boys for "shooting craps" in the alleys and at the same time to ignore drawing-room gambling, for gambling is as bad in one form as in another.

"When the men in my district urged me to run for Congress on the ground that I was the only one who could beat the Democratic candidate, I fought the problem out with myself on my knees. That is precisely the way I am doing with problems in Congress."

CAPITAL AND LABOR GO ALONG SMOOTHLY ON THE HENRY FORD PLAN.

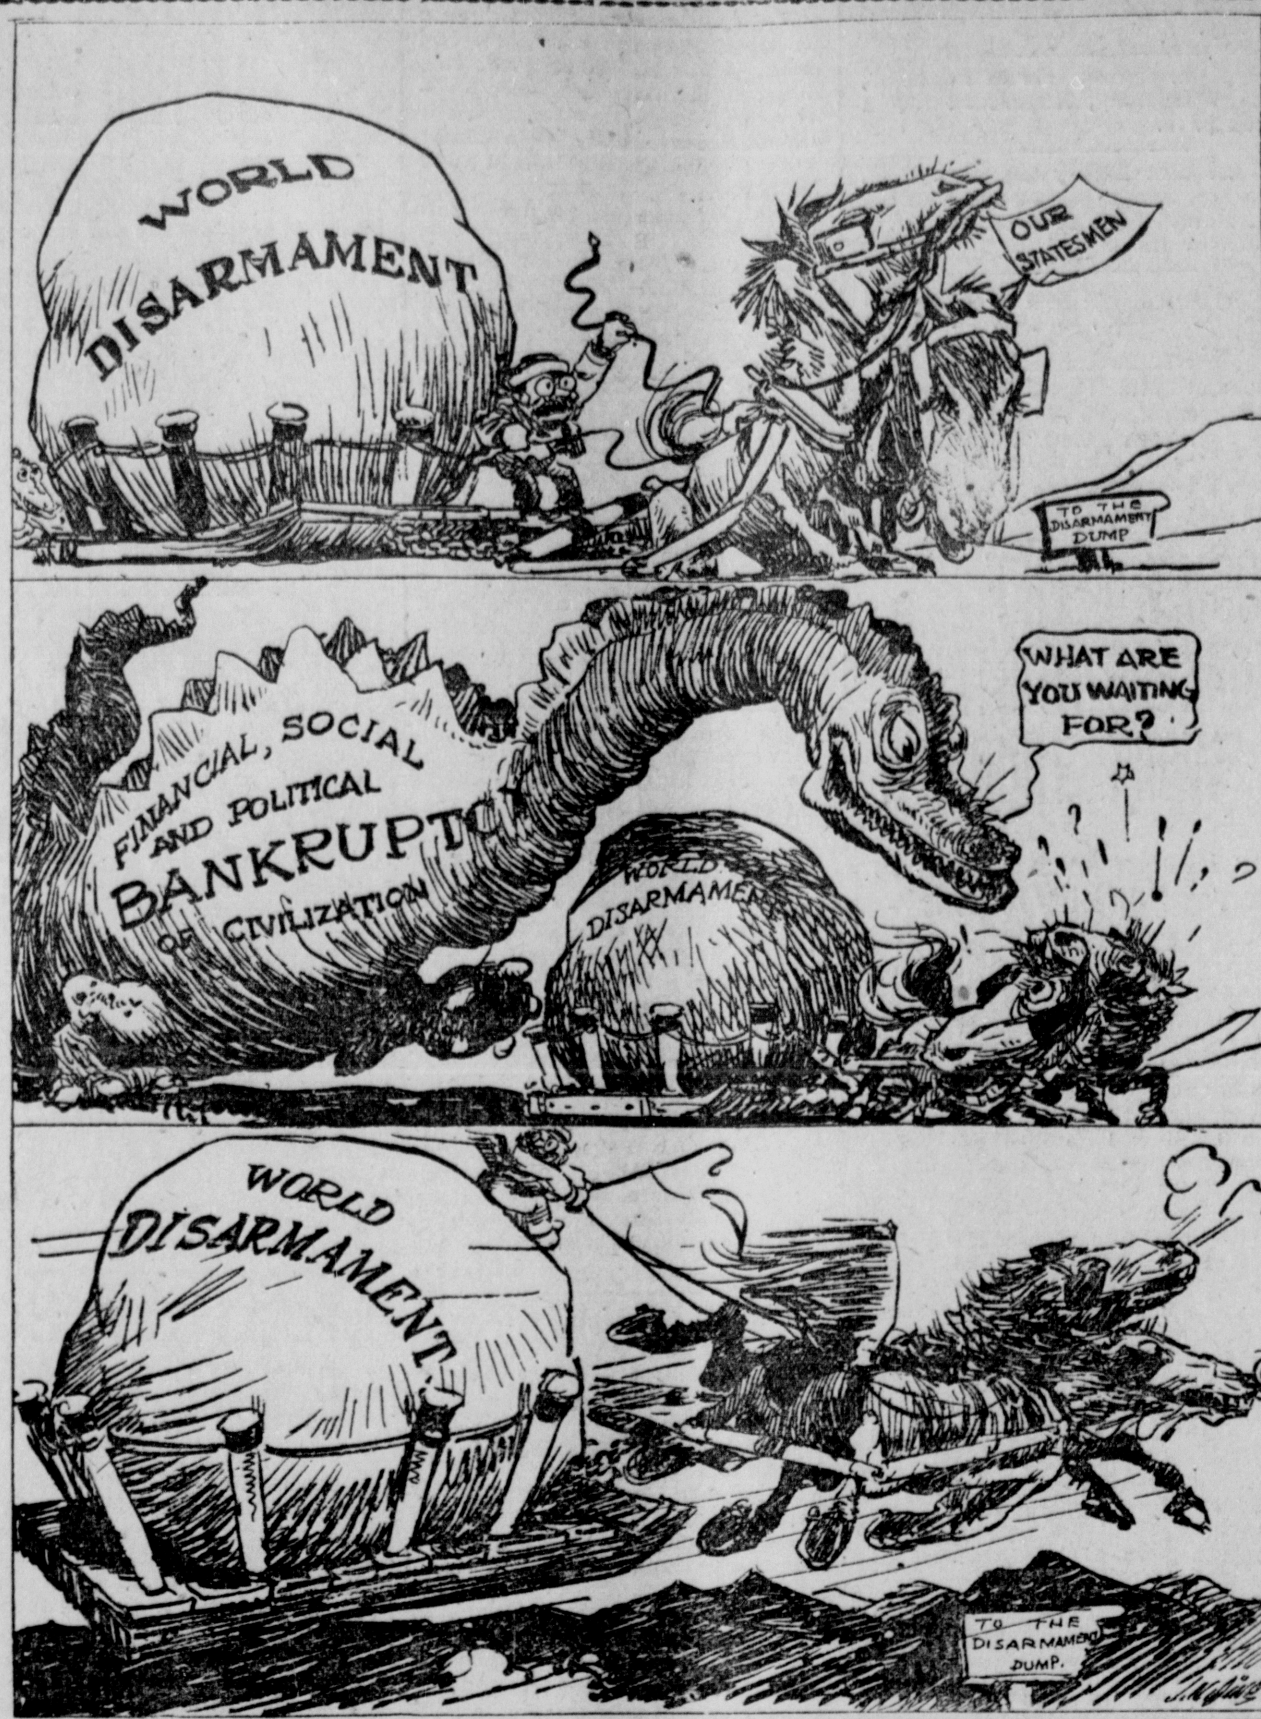

The financial wizard of Detroit, Mr. Henry Ford, has discovered a solution for dealing with labor unions, which is both effective and satisfactory to all concerned. Some six months ago, Mr. Ford became identified with the railroad business, by purchasing the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road, a short line extending from Detroit into Ohio. One of the first problems to be brought to the attention of the new owner of the road was the adjustment of wages with the employees. Representatives of the Railway Brotherhoods took a proposed working agreement to Mr. Ford for his signature. He tore it up and offered each of his employees, not as union men, wages higher than those demanded by the unions, with better working conditions. Monthly pay schedules offered by Mr. Ford were to engineers and conductors $375, to firemen $275 and to brakemen $235. The men have an eight hour day and a six day week. There is no over time. When a man completes his 208 hour month his services are discontinued until the first of the next month. Incidentally, Mr. Ford has turned the bankrupt road which he purchased into a profitable investment. During the first six months of his ownership and management the net profits have exceeded $500,000. In addition to the changed conditions noted above, he has cut two hours from the running schedules between Detroit and Bainbridge, a distance of 280 miles. He has confiscated four steel private cars belonging to operating officials with the statement that they ride with the public hereafter. Freight to and from the Ford factory is so heavy that as many as 1,200 cars have been handled in twelve hours. Under the old management the record was 200 cars in twenty-four hours.

A trip through Henry Ford's experimental shops and laboratories at Dearborn, Mich., shows his entire force of engineers and draftsmen turned loose on modernizing railroad equipment. Upon the chemical laboratories have fallen the burden of the work in the production of the proposed seventy-five-ton locomotive which, it is said, will do the work of present-day engines weighing 200 tons.

It is upon the steel to be produced by an alloy process, cutting the weight two thirds while sacrificing none of the strength, that the new era locomotive depends.

Operation of a railroad on Sunday is all nonsense, according to the Ford idea. At present he is moving only perishable goods and in the near future he expects to have the traffic moving in such a fashion that from Saturday night until Monday morning not one wheel will turn on the D. T. and I. system.

COMPARATIVELY EASY CONSIDERING THE ALTERNATIVE

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Harve Hupman will leave for Mt. Clemens, Mich., next week, where he will try to keep from having hay fever, with which he is usually afflicted.

The rails and other material for the curve which will be put in at the intersection of Detroit and Main streets, by the D. and X. Transit Company, arrived in this city this morning.

The "All-Around Club" which is comprised of a number of Xenia young people will give a dance at Lucas Grove Park, next Tuesday evening.

Mr. O. M. Whittington of the Citizens' National Bank, accompanied by his wife and daughter left for De Graff, Ohio, today to spend a few weeks with Mrs. Whittington's people.

The Gazette had its first call today over the new system of the old telephone company, and it was as clear as a bell. The telephone is a most satisfactory affair when it works right but when it doesn't it is inclined to make one say things other than "hello."

silas are found to be soaked, sponge-like, with rheumatism germs (for this is a germ disease). And these germs have, through months and years of unnecessary suffering, been traveling along with the blood and lymph from those tonsils to those joints, and to the heart valves besides where they have produced the swelling and the fever and the pain of that disease.

The same observation applies to decayed teeth, to infected appendices, inflamed gall-bladder and so on.

MINSTREL SHOW HAS BIG COMPANY

It boasts a concert and orchestra, a double quartet of male voices, the world's best cyclist, rider, a sextette of fancy dancers, all special scenery, elegant appropriate costumes, six comedians and five big acts in the olio.

A street parade will be held at noon Tuesday. The show has been brought here through arrangements with the Standard Amusement Company.

GRAFT RAMPANT

Washington, Aug. 22—Graft is rampant in the offices of federal shipping commissioners and there is to be a "clean sweep" in that branch of the bureau of navigation at Atlantic as well as Pacific coast ports, it was officially stated today at the department of commerce.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover today requested the resignation of Shipping Commissioner Quinn at New York. Hoover said he "would clean up" the New York bureau with a "scrub brush to remove all traces of corruption."

HEARING BEGINS

Hearing of the condemnation suit of the Dayton Board of Education against Mrs. Joan Trebein, of this city, to obtain possession of a 13-acre tract of land on Abbey Avenue, Dayton, commenced in the court of Common Pleas Judge Alfred McCray before a jury in Dayton, Tuesday morning.

WOMAN SAYS SHE HEARD "CHOPPING"

Akron, Ohio.—A woman living in the neighborhood of Kipling and Eighth streets, told the police that neighbors were making wood alcohol. Sergeant McGuire and members of his vice squad futilely and exhaustively searched the neighborhood in question. Then the officer went to the home of the woman informant.

"What! You find nothing?" she asked. "Well I don't care," she continued. "I know they make wood alcohol, because I hear them every night in their cellar chopping."

WELL ENOUGH ALONE.

Old Bill, who once was kaiser, now runs his sawing mill, and had he acted wiser, he might be kaiser still. A gilt-bespangled sinner, he ruled a mighty realm, and Prussia seemed a winner, with Wilhelm at the helm. He might have kept on ruling, before the awe-struck crowd, till he was old and drooling, and ready for the shroud, had he cut out the scheming that proved to be no good; but he was fond of dreaming—and now he's sawing wood. Alas, no wizard, gnome-eyed, approached the monarch's throne, to hand him out this bromide, "Let well enough alone!" No prophet or forecaster, no seers in double teams, implored the royal master to can the hoppeit dreams. So Wilhelm went on planning to make the world his realm, the farthest oceans spanning—and now he's whacking elm. With rusty saws and axes he lays the hemlock low, and he must pay his taxes like John or Richard Roe. But few of us are kaisers, and few of us have thrones; we've mostly early risers who rustle for the bones. But many are disgusted with "well enough," I know; and some day they'll be busted, and full of shredded woe, because some fool ambition has led them far astray; the "well enough" condition can't please the hophead jay. Old Bill, that outcast critter, might still be on his throne, had he known when to twitter, "Let well enough alone."

ANSWERED LETTERS

G. K. :—Consult your oculist about your eyes, as you should not have a headache after reading. Limit the number of films you go to and close the eyes occasionally while the changes are being made between the pictures.

Florient :—Take a Spring tonic as your skin is probably sallow from a sluggish liver. Flour of sulphur made into a paste with table syrup, will make a good tonic and the dose is a teaspoonful three times each day for three days. Omit three days, then repeat it for three more days and continue this for several weeks, after which rest from it and note the change in your skin. You may begin it again if needed, but do not make a practice of taking too much of anything that is intended to purify the blood, as overdosing will thin it.

H. C. L. :—There is nothing to turn dark hair, so that it will be gray.

Brunette :—The whole character of the lives of Japanese women is so different from ours, there can be no comparison. It is the nature of that race to have shiny black hair.

Peggy :—You should weigh about 125 pounds. Cocoa is fattening if it agrees with you, but it is taxing to the digestion if taken persistently in warm weather, in which case it would not fatten at all. Milk can be made into junket or light custards and malted milk may be taken also, as a variety.

Interested Reader :—A list of foods for gaining weight would take more space than I may take here. Send a stamped addressed envelope. I will be pleased to mail this information to you.

F. P. S.; M. M. :—Send a stamped addressed envelope for hair tonic formula, as it cannot be printed at this time.

Too Thin :—Increase the amount of olive oil to a tablespoonful and continue to take it before the meal. Try it with the same amount of grape juice, unless you particularly love the taste of the oil, in which case you will not tire of it.

Working Girl :—You can darken those blonde lashes by using an extract which is made from walnut shells. Any drug store should have it. It should be applied to the hair by using a fine sable brush, but it should be done carefully, as the stain will also discolor the skin if it touches it. You can have this done at any beauty parlor and it does not cost very much. There is nothing in it to injure the eyes.

Miss Whatt :—You are not really overweight, but should not allow yourself to increase; if anything five pounds less will be a safer weight at your age.

S. P. :—If you mean that your cheeks have color, that should be an asset; but if you mean a face that is red all over, you should consult your doctor about it.

C. M. P. :—Send a stamped addressed envelope for directions for massaging the face. My space is too limited to publish it this time.

THE ONE IDEA MAN.

There is a chap in the western part of the United States who has the agency for a certain automobile.

Last winter when times were exceedingly hard and the snow was exceedingly abundant, the orders rolled into the main office of this automobile concern from this young fellow out West.

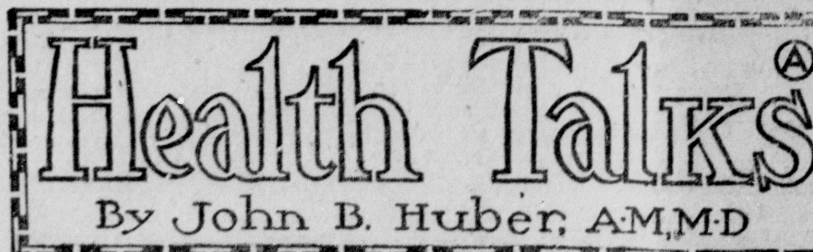

So unusual was this thriving business, that the managers wrote and asked how it happened that he sent in so many orders. And this was his reply:

"I didn't know I was supposed not to sell them!"

There are some people who are able to see nothing but the thing at hand. And so they empty their souls into what they do—and things get done. Errors and mistakes? Yes. Side-tracked at times? Yes. But eventually a clean path is hewn over which they may walk in confident style.

One idea is enough—if it is a good one.

Better have one idea that works

The chief Danger Spots—II. I have continued this subject from yesterday.

The pancreas—Its digestive juices are more important than those of the stomach. Inflammation of the pancreas (pancreatitis) leads in many cases to diabetes.

Gall bladder—Here are developed the germs which spread typhoid and cholera. When the gall duct is inflamed, every tissue in the body is yellow with jaundice.

The colon—Here are developed those bacteria of putrefaction, the toxins (poisons) of which course through the blood and affect not only our physical organs, but also our minds, our emotions and our tempers as well.

The appendix—Its only use in the body is to engender disease. If it gives you the slightest excuse, have it removed.

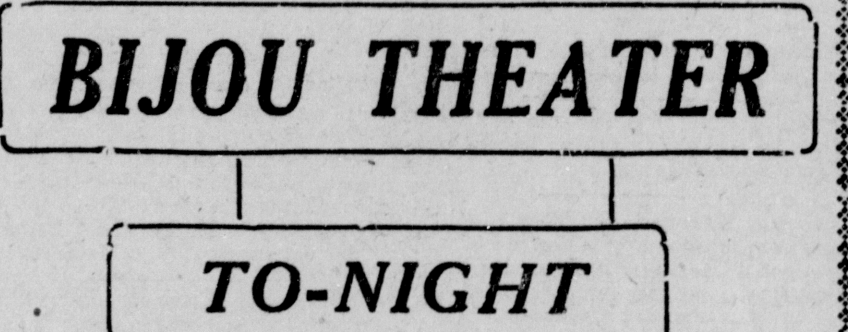

Now, the practical conclusion of all this is, if the patient is to be cured of the primary focus of his disease has to be sought out and got rid of, if possible, as the first step to any sensible reasonable treatment. That is why we (certainly those of us past 40) should go to our doctor's at least once a year for examination—as regularly anyway as we go to our dentist's. Only thus can the doctor learn how properly to manage any disease that has "taken hold" on our systems.

For example people who have to be treated for rheumatism, year in and year out, have practically bought up drug stores in their localities. They haven't perhaps, noticed that pretty much every attack of rheumatism has been preceded by an attack say of tonsillitis, or of sore throat. Finally, they agree as to what their doctor has from the beginning earnestly advised—they have their diseased tonsils removed and their throats treated. Remarkable to relate, they thenceforth have no more rheumatic attacks.

Why? Because those removed ton-

MRS. SELCHERI'S DAUGHTER

Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Horicon, Wis.—"My young daughter had been troubled for several months with backache and a bad feeling in her stomach. When she got to the table to eat she did not want anything, while before she was so hungry she could hardly wait for her dinner.

The doctors gave her medicine but it did not help her. One day I was reading a little book of yours which was left on my porch and it reminded me that when I was a young girl I took several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So she went to the drug store and got a bottle and after the second one she could eat and has not had backache since. In all she took six bottles of it. She goes to school and on Saturdays helps with the housework. She is a normal, healthy girl now and we recommence, but it did not help her. ## DINNER STORIES

Bridget was one of the new type of "domestic help." She knew all about the science of the thing. One day her mistress remarked to her:

"The water you brought for luncheon this morning tasted rather peculiar, Bridget."

The Irish maid bridled as she replied: "Sure, ma'am, there's wan thing about it, I know there wasn't a single germ in it, for I ran it all through the mincing machine twice."—Pearson's.

Representative Sumner of Texas seldom tells an old story. So when, recently, he told an exceedingly antiquated yarn, several friends who were with him were greatly surprised. One man in the crowd, however, laughed uproariously at the old story.

After the crowd had dispersed one of Sumner's friends asked him why it was that he spun such an archaic tale.

"I knew there was a fellow in that crowd who wanted a job," Sumner explained, "and I could not exactly determine which one it was. Now I know. It was the man who laughed."

The new quartermaster on the good freighter Sioux was at the wheel and was rattled. First the ship swung madly to port, then to starboard, and then back again, the old skipper stood her antics as long as he could, and then burst forth. "Say, son," he shouted, "I don't mind your writing your name in the old pond, but for the love of Mike, stop going back to read it!"

rather objected to his daughter's swain—a fact which the young man was well aware of. But the lure of love is strong and the wooer often braved the wrath of the father for the sake of the daughter's smiles.

One evening the old man found the young fellow in the hall when he returned from the club and promptly and efficiently hastened his departure.

"Oh, dad!" wailed the fair Phyllis as the old chap limped into the sitting room. "I hope you haven't hurt Arthur!"

"Hurt him?" growled father as he sank into a chair and nursed his right foot. "No, I haven't hurt him! But if he comes here again with bricks in his coatall pockets I'll kill him!"

"How do you like your new car?" asked the Lizzie driver. "Great!" replied the Big Six driver. "It runs so smoothly you can't feel it. Not a bit of noise; you can't hear it. Perfect ignition; you can't smell a thing. And speed—why it whizzes! You can't see it." "Must be some car," ventured the Lizzie driver. "Can't feel it, can't smell it, can't hear it, can't see it! How do you know it is there?"

Teacher—Now who can tell just what is meant by the saying, "All men are created equal"? We all know that some of us are born with wealth and many other advantages not shared by all.

"We are all created with an equal need for clothes," suggested little Johnny.

"I'm sorry, I have not a pleasant left, sir," replied the shopman, "but here are some fine sausages" that I can highly recommend. I'm sure your wife will be delighted with them."

"Sausages be blowed!" yelled the sportsman; "how can I tell my wife I shot sausages?"

"Rivers," said the American, "why your rivers are nothing to ours. Compared with our Hudson and Mississippi your Marsey, Severn and Thames are sleepy, sickly streams."

"Oh, come," protested the Englishman. "I think your rivers are just as sickly as ours."

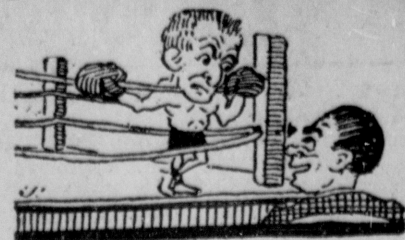

"How do you make that out?" "Well, they are all confined to their beds," replied the visitor.

During the holidays the chief guest in the household was a little nephew. The aunt was frankly amazed at the astonishing exhibition of his appetite.

"Heavens!" she exclaimed, one day. "I hope you don't mind my saying so, Louis, but, for a little chap, you certainly eat a whole lot!"

Louis, however, was not in the least taken back by this. "Remember this, auntie," he said, very solemnly. "I ain't so little as you think me outside."

Harry Pollard, movie comedian, was at the ringside of a Los Angeles boxing show when a little bantamweight was introduced as "The California Calamout."

"What do they want to call a little kid like you by such a long handle?" asked Pollard. "Why don't you use your real name?"

"I wanted to," answered the midget, "but the announcer would not let me use it."

"What is your name?" asked Pollard. "Solis Mlotkowski," chirped the youth.

"That announcer was right," said Harry.

The magistrate was a very pompous man. He felt his position acutely. He felt it was his duty to be fair, just and witty.

"What's the prisoner's defence?" he demanded.

"Prisoner says he mistook his mother-in-law for a fox. That's why he fired at her," he reported.

"Who?" replied the judge. "Did his mother-in-law go near him when she knew he had a loaded gun in his hands?"

"Yes, my lord."

"Death through misadventure. A mother-in-law ought to know that when a man's got a loaded gun in his hand she's going to be mistaken for something."

EVADED LAW FOR THIRTEEN YEARS; NEVER ACCUSED

Paris, Mo., —After being declared legally dead and living thirteen years under an assumed name in constant terror of arrest, Rube Hall has come home. He laughed today as he told a weird story of having been formally listed as among the dead.

Hall left Paris in 1909. After seven years of absence his aunt went into court, had him declared dead and attempted to collect insurance money. The case was pending in a high court when word was received from Denver that Hall was a resident there.

"I have dodged the law for thirteen years," Hall declared. "I firmly believe I had killed John Williams in a crap game. I won heavily in a Western game, Williams picked a trap with me and I knocked him off a scamp."

"Imagine my relief when I met Williams face to face in Denver two months ago. I grabbed his hand and cried 'Say, are you really John Williams.' He replied 'Yep, This is John.' He laughed and said he was 'brought up a bit when I told him I thought I'd killed him.'"

Hall, who has been living under the name of Henry E. Thomas, will return to Denver to spend the remainder of his life with his wife and sixteen-year old daughter.

GIRL ASSERTS RIGHT

TO CHOOSE HER OWN

Herkimer, N. Y.,—Mike Pollack, of New Haven, Conn., for the present at least is a disappointed wooer. Paula Misloski, of Jordanville, was the object of Mike's affections. Some years ago, when Paula's parents lived in the Connecticut city, the suitor took a fancy to the then sixteen-year-old girl. This he made known to the girl's parents, who, without Paula's knowledge, agreed, at a future time that Mike should become their son-in-law. Meantime Mike saved his earnings, bought a house, arranged the details for the wedding, even as to the flowers and music. Recently the suitor, ten years Paula's senior, came to Jordanville to claim the hand of the young lady. She resented the family plans and went to the Sheriff for protection. Mike's demands upon the Sheriff were met with advice to wait until "all" were ready for the ceremony.

PRESSURE GAUGE MAKES PERMANENT RECORD FOR CITY

A recording pressure gauge, has been installed in the office of City Auditor T. H. Zell, city water department, connected with the pumping station at Old Town.

The new pressure gauge, instead of recording the pressure by the movements of a hand, as the old gauge did, records the pressure established every minute of the day, in a permanent record in the red ink on a revolving dial.

The paper dial, which is replaced with a fresh graph every day, is marked with the hours of the day, and is operated by clock works. A pen shifts back and forth over the dial marking the amount of pressure existing at the time. The paper dials are then kept as a permanent record. A venturimeter recently installed at the pumping station, records on somewhat similar paper dial, the number of gallons of water pumped every minute all day long, and records are kept at the office of the City Auditor.

THE NEW GENERATION

Margaret's Youth Is Impressed Upon Her.

Mrs. Thompson, Hortense's mother, gave a reception. Margaret was invited.

"What shall I wear?" she said to Joan, after reading the invitation. "Your brown satin," Joan answered promptly.

"That is rather old—I wonder—" "No it isn't. And you look so sweet in it."

"Very well, I'll look it over." "Mrs. Hayden, may I present Mr. Forrester, a great friend of ours," Mrs. Thompson said. Then: "Please entertain Mrs. Hayden, Craig. He can if he will, Mrs. Hayden, he has been a great globe-trotter. But he's very disinclined to talk of his travels usually."

"Do tell me of things you have seen, Mr. Forrester." It is my great ambition to travel as soon as my daughter can leave school.

"Your daughter?" "Yes, she is 14 now?"

"Pardon me, but you do not look old enough to have a daughter of that age."

They both laughed, while Margaret wondered why of late everyone and everything seemed to emphasize her youth.

They "got on famously," as Craig Forrester told Mrs. Thompson when she came to them again, and carried him unwillingly off to meet some other guest.

Out of Margaret's hearing, he had questioned his hostess. She had satisfied his curiosity, adding that she did not approve of all of Margaret's views, but that she admired her greatly otherwise.

"Did you have a good time, Mumsie?" Joan asked upon Margaret's return.

"Delightful, dear." She had worn the brown satin dress with its collar and cuffs of yellowed lace, her hair done simply as usual. But some of the excitement of her talk with Craig Forrester still showed in her face, still shone in her eyes.

"You look so pretty, Mumsie." If it was a concession, a wish to make up for her criticism of the previous days, neither Joan or Margaret mentioned it. Yet in a way Margaret felt hurt. Joan would tell her she looked well only when she wore old clothes, sober staid colors, and she dared not give them because of her 14 year old girl who from her birth had been allowed all the things that the mother denied herself.

Craig Forrester had finished his visit. After he left Margaret thought with regret that he had not seen her in the gray dress.

"It will be out of style then," she said to herself, thinking of his words when he left her— "I shall come back soon, Mrs. Hayden."

Margaret felt somehow comforted. She had admitted her personality. She surely had the right to develop that personality; she had the right to self-expression. In spite of Joan, regardless of her prejudice, she must take advantage of that right.

Craig Forrester called often on Margaret after that, and both consciously and unconsciously he helped her growing interest in herself—Margaret Hayden, not just Joan Hayden's mother.

Joan he had met, and she amused and interested him. Margaret had told him of her ideas, of her belief that children of the right sort of parents can be trusted to do right if given freedom to express their own individualities.

Margaret could not tell whether Joan resented his calls or not. At times she would be graciously lady-like to him, at others she would avoid him if possible, or speak shortly then excuse herself and run away.

"I must make him help me assert myself," Margaret had said over and over. Time and time again she had taken the gray dress with the rose trimmings down thinking to wear it when he came, and so often she had put it away again.

She was not yet ready to fight it out with Joan, not yet ready to shoulder the responsibility of hurting the child to whom she had devoted herself so assiduously, even though she could not understand why she should be hurt either.

So Margaret waited day after day, each day feeling new life, new hopes, new aspirations within herself waiting, longing for the expression she dared not give them because of her 14 year old girl who from her birth had been allowed all the things that the mother denied herself.

Craig Forrester had finished his visit. After he left Margaret thought with regret that he had not seen her in the gray dress.

Goodness Compelled In Red Wing Creams

The expert manner in which RED WING Ice Cream is made will not permit anything but goodness in the product. Experts care for it from the time the pure country cream is hauled into the plant. It is analyzed and granulated cane sugar passes through similar process and the flavors are given a test, too. Next, experts see that all is properly proportioned and timed when it passes through the many steps. After it has become bulk, it lies for hours in a frigid room where it becomes hard. Then careful hands pack it and see that it gets to the dealer with the same idea of cleanliness uppermost in the minds of all concerned. Thus, you see why RED WING is just naturally full of all kinds of goodness. It baffles the heat, refreshes and imparts that feeling coming from full food value.
